Joint American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN) - Bangladesh Bioethics Society
Intensive Training Workshop on Bioethics and Research: Preparing Ethical Professionals

Dhaka, Bangladesh
2-4 January 2015

Convened by the Bangladesh Bioethics Society; American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN) and Eubios Ethics Institute.

The training will be led by Professor Darryl Macer, Director of the Institute of Indigenous Peoples and Global Studies, and of the Masters Program in Bioethics and Global Public Health (MBGPH), AUSN, USA and Professor Shamima Lasker, AUSN Clinical Professor of Anatomy, Dentistry and Bioethics.

There will be other professors and professionals from a range of fields and countries, and the workshop will also provide a chance for assessment by the Bangladesh Bioethics Society of its progress since founding. There will be intensive bioethics training and mentoring on professional presentation, teaching and research skills, with participants invited to make improved presentations after intense training.

This training will count as 3 credit hours for the MBGPH degree, and one of three required residential Intensive Training Programs to graduate from the MBGPH or MPH programs. Participants can take it as a stand-alone professional development course as well, but we encourage all those involved in teaching bioethics to gather the Masters degree as well, which is offered as a combination of residential and online sessions around the world. This should increase your salary and job opportunities!

AUSN will be offering tuition fee waivers for excellent trainees, for the Masters Program in Bioethics and Global Public Health (MBGPH). Participants are responsible for their own travel and accommodation and meals. The AUSN MBGPH program is an innovative bioethics graduate program started in 2014, that already has the highest student population of any Masters in Bioethics program globally. Faculty come from all around the world, and are global thought leaders, dedicated to a transformation of the quality of teaching and research in bioethics globally.

It is free, and it will be fun! - No registration fee for accepted applicants. Register with your background to Ms. Ananya Trithumrongchok, Manager, Eubios Ethics Institute, Email: ananya@eubios.info and Prof. Shamima Lasker, Email: splasker04@yahoo.com
