A Filipino citizen who was born on the 2nd December 1996. She is the second child of the family which also makes her the youngest one. She grew up in the city with her family. She finished her secondary education in Assumption Iloilo and currently studying at St. Paul University Iloilo, taking up BS in Accountancy. She is also one of the senate officers of the Paulinian Student Government in the said university. She has been involved in organizations that make her equipped with any task given to her.

She has been elected as an officer since she was in first year. She believes that position in an organization is more than just the position, it is more of service that makes you countable to be one. A quick response to a certain problem and giving it a practical solution will make things move perfectly as it is supposed to be. Given the time, she is willing to make something for the world to become not just an ordinary world but a world that people can live.

It is so hard to make things move but this is a challenge a person can make if she continues to believe in her goals and make something about it.
