(lulubellegarduque@yahoo.com)

She was born in Manila, Philippines (where she is currently living), since 18th February 1996. During 2013, she was about 17 years old when the Philippines was struck by a huge storm, called Typhoon Haiyan or Typhoon Yolanda. Seeing those people in the news crying, begging for help, losing their hope, and also seeing your friends and relatives crying, worrying and losing their loved ones due to the chaos of typhoon 'Yolanda', gave her a courage and willingness to take an action to contribute, comfort and serve for her fellowman victims. From that time until now she continues to use wholeheartedly serves and helps to pack, organize, donate and comfort the disaster victims.

She also used to attend some seminars in relation in saving our Mother Earth, Preparedness in earthquakes and flood and fortunately she was given an opportunity to join and participate in the Youth Looking Beyond Disaster Forum 4 so she can gain more knowledge and apply it, to share and contribute to our society especially to the youth.
