

Ms. Stefy Listiani Santoso (Indonesia)

(stephy.listiani@yahoo.com)

I am a candidate for a Bachelor of Economics at Parahyangan Catholic University. My interest in environment issues, social issues, people and event management brought me to join student organization activities, in which i have held responsibilities as a public relations of AICT (Ambassador of Indonesian Cultures & Tourism), as a Head of Internal Division (Human Resource Development) at Nusantara Young Leaders, as a chairman of AKAR HIDUP and as a Local Committee Coordinator of Indonesian Green Action Forum Representing UNPAR and as a chairman of Parahyangan Green Challenge 2014.

In 2013, I was a Delegate of UNPAR for “Democratic and Economics Youth Summit 2013” in Istanbul, Turkey. I was selected by McKinsey & Company Indonesia to join Young Leaders for Indonesia Satellite, a pool of Indonesian bright students who are projected to be global class leaders in the future. I was awarded as the winner of Personal Leadership Project (PLP) by McKinsey & Company Indonesia.

I perceived myself as a person who cherishes any opportunity given and strives to get the most out of it, particularly to enrich my insights and experience while exploring myself to find what i am truly passionate about in life. I love to challenge myself, that’s why i do love travelling so i can explore new places and I also love to challenge myself through competitions. I was said to be one of the best students of Parahyangan Catholic University (2013/2014). I won the 2nd Rank of Social Project Idea Competition held by University of Indonesia, STS Malaysia & ILDP UI, 1st Rank of Advance Audit Management Competition held by UNPAR, TOP 8 Finalist out of 900 applicants of Nutrifood Leadership Awards 2013, TOP 30 Finalist out of 400 applicants & The Most Active Finalist of Danamon Young Leaders Awards, and etc. My passion is to be inspired and inspire others!. And favorite quotes is “Life is better when you share it” by Oprah Winfrey.
