

Dwiko Elfan Batubara (Indonesia)

(elfan.dwiko@yahoo.com)

I was born in Padangsidempuan, one of the cities in North of Sumatera. I was born and raised in a family that taught me about all the good things. I am an easy man to get along with because I have a sense of humor and curiosity about other people around me.

I am a student of the Faculty of Agriculture in University of Riau. Everyday I have plenty to do, both in the lecture and organizations outside of college. I attended a Christian youth organization engaged in ministry in the church.

I am interested in joining the Youth Peace Ambassador program because I think the program is very useful for me and beneficial for others and the environment around me, even for the world. Another reason why I am interested to participate is to learn to develop an action plan and share my views and ideas about and make a network. I hope what I get after following this program, I can use for peace in the environment around me.

By following this program, I also want to share the knowledge I have, well it's about creativity, talent, and culture of where I came from, add new friends from another countries, and I also wanted to add to my knowledge by communicating and sharing with others.