

Ms. Stephanie Dennise Lim (Philippines)

(Email: stephaniedennise_lim@yahoo.com)

She was born in Manila, Philippines, on the 16th of November 1995. She lives in Pasig City and is currently studying Psychology in St. Paul University Quezon City. She loves to draw and read books. She was 13 years old and in 3rd year high school when she experienced the flood “Ondoy”, or “Ketsana” struck Metro Manila and Northern Luzon. It was her first time to experience such a devastating typhoon and to experience a great flood even inside their house. And two years ago, when a monsoon again hit Manila, commonly known as “Habagat”, rains, thunderstorms and floodings were again experienced.

She realized that these natural calamities cannot be prevented by humankind and we have no power to stop it, but we can be prepared whenever it strikes again. This can be done by building awareness and providing seminars on risk reduction and disaster preparedness. You can contact her via email \(stephaniedennise_lim@yahoo.com\) and via Facebook “Stephanie Dennise Lim”.
