

Sr. Adelina Da Conceição Soares, SPC (Timor Leste)

(sradelina@gmail.com)

I was born in Ermera-Matata, Timor Leste on March 8, 1985. I grew up with my parents in Ermera in the city where I was baptized. I started my school days only in a public school.

During my teenage years I experienced the war between Indonesia and Timor Leste. This conflict taught a great lesson because a lot of people offered their help to me. Yes, this gave an inspiration to do likewise to others. I was able to help other people through different activities been implemented by our SPC Congregation. Today, I am inspired by the different sharing of knowledge and experiences of my friends, and now I am moved with confidence to plan and implement my ideas to reach out to young people.
